Praesidio™ Composite Doors

As a specialist provider of composite doors, our team are committed to quality and perfection from the measuring and survey of your property through to the manufacturing process, installation and aftercare. There are many reasons to choose a Praesidio™ composite door, including:

Beautiful and Stylish

Our range of doors come in various styles and colours with a range of fixtures, fittings and security features that are in keeping with the style of the door you choose, whether you are opting for something from our contemporary Metro collection or prefer a more traditional look from our Country collection.

Made to Measure

Every door we make is bespoke and created right here in the UK in our very own workshop, so you can be assured of quality craftsmanship and attention to detail. Fitted with accurate precision, the hinge edge of your door is cut to fit neatly inside the edge of your door. The overall finish is a bespoke, quality finish fitted perfectly for your property.

Innovative

Behind our stunning door range lies advanced engineering with superior locking mechanisms including our three-star rated anti-snap locks and quality hardware. Combining quality materials, superior craftsmanship and great design means that our products are made to last. The colour finish is tough and durable and will last in all weather, to ensure that your door looks stunning for years to come.

Eco-Friendly

Our composite doors are our most environmentally friendly and sustainable doors, being recyclable and manufactured in the UK to keep our carbon footprint to a minimum. We use calcium zinc which is more environmentally friendly than lead and the doors are both wind resistant and thermally efficient, with a high density, CFC and HCFC closed cell core which is better at keeping heat in and cold out than uPVC.

Made to Last

With our superior locking mechanisms and durable materials, our Praesidio doors are designed to keep intruders out and the warmth in, as well as being able to weather all conditions from extreme sunlight to gale force winds! Practically unbreakable they will last for many years to come without losing their colour or finish and they come with a ten-year guarantee.

Quality First

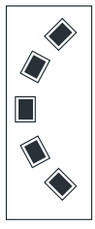

Independent Tests have proven that our Praesidio doors exceed industry standards for thermal insulation, security and weather durability.
